

*TAKE THREE CYCLING HOLIDAYS

By Thomas Breathnach

1

CYCLE THE CAMINO

If walking the Camino seems a little slow paced, why not saddle up a seven-day family cycling adventure? It includes three days of peddling 20km, taking in the seaside towns of Basque country.

The journey ends with a boat trip across the bay to Santander, with two days of relaxation in the town.

The trip costs €2,698 for two adults and two children, excluding flights; see caminoways.com.

2

MOUNTAIN BIKING IN SLOVENIA

Fancy more of an Alpine adventure? The Slovenian town of Kranjska Gora lies just 7km from both the Italian and Austrian borders, making it the ideal location for some cross-country mountain biking.

Cable cars still run come summer, giving you all the more time to focus on downhill adrenaline.

€523pps half-board (ask if your hotel offers free bike hire); see crystalsummer.ie.

3

ROAD TRIP TO FLORIDA

EagleRider's Georgia Florida Motorcycle Tour is an eight-day escape around the southeast of the United States. During this self-drive trip you will experience southern hospitality in Savannah, Georgia, and Charleston charm in South Carolina, before you shift down gears with a visit to Disneyland.

Who says bikers don't have a softer side?

€1,575pps including flights, hire and accommodation; see americanholidays.com.
