

The Sunday Business Post

Kerry Camino Festival, April 29-May 2

No matter what you're into, there's an outdoor adventure with your name on it over the coming weeks

Active Connections Climb for Change, April 15

This Climb-a-thon is open to anyone who would like to attempt to scale the combined height of K2. Taking place at the Mardyke Sports Arena in UCC, the aim of the Climb-a-thon is to raise money for young people in need.

Active Connections is Ireland's leading adventure therapy provider and will use this money to 'change lives through adventure'. activeconnections.ie

Turf N Surf west coast surf day trips, April 17, 24

Top Donegal surf school Turf N Surf will run day surf trips every Sunday from Dublin to Bundoran, throughout April, May and June. You'll be picked up from Isaacs Hostel, Dublin 1, at 7:30am sharp, and whisked to the waves for a surf lesson. All gear will be provided. And if you don't need a lesson, you can just use the gear and surf with your mates. You'll then be dropped back to Dublin at 8pm approx. All for the bargain price of €59. turfnsurftourz.com

Weekend Salmon Fishing Course, April 22-24

If you've ever wanted to learn how to fish for salmon, this is your chance. You'll stay for two nights at Aasleagh Lodge, a restored 19th-century Victorian country house overlooking Killary Harbour in Galway, and will fish on the River Erriff. Quality instruction will be provided by Jason O'Riordan and Ken Whelan who will explain and demonstrate salmon behaviour throughout the season, fishing tackle and fly selection, correct casts for fishing situations, spinning tackle and correct lure choice, fishing techniques and fish location.

For bookings, see delphiresort.com

Camino Kerry Festival, April 29 - May 2

Taking place on the Dingle Peninsula over the May Bank Holiday weekend, this walking festival offers outdoor enthusiasts three days of superb walking trails between Tralee to Dingle.

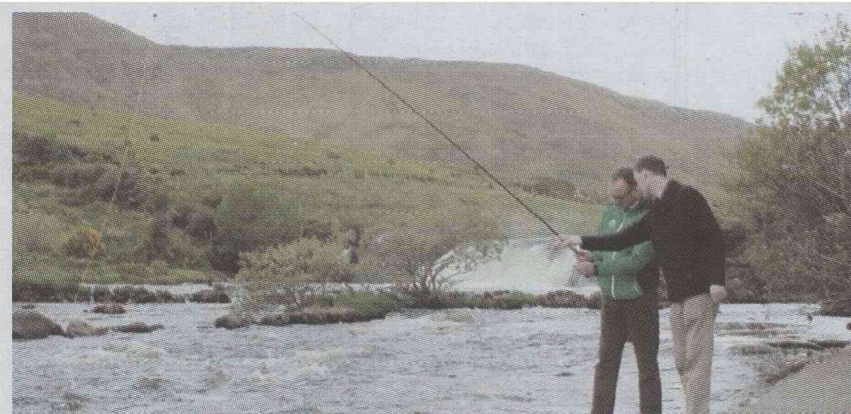

The festival is also an opportunity to celebrate the links between Ireland and the Camino de Santiago.

"The Kerry Camino finishes in St James's Church in Dingle and honours the traditional connection between the area and the Camino. Dingle was one of the main harbours used by Irish pilgrims setting sail to Northern Spain on their way to Santiago," explains Ingrid Boyle from the Kerry Camino.

Festival walkers will be provided with Kerry Camino passports that can be stamped along the way, just like pilgrim passports on the Camino de Santiago. Certificates will be presented in St James Church in Dingle after completing the walk. caminoways.com/kerry-camino-walking-festival

If you'd like to have your outdoor or adventure event listed on these pages, email: editor@outsider.ie with EVENTS in the subject field

The Sunday Business Post

Weekend Salmon Fishing Course from April 22-24 at Aasleagh Lodge, Co Galway